HISTORICAL NOTE

Chase County was organized by a proclamation of the Governor, April 12, 1886. The town of Imperial was designated as the county seat. Prior to its organization, the area of Chase County had been attached to Hayes County for judicial and legal purposes. The Burlington Railroad reached Imperial in 1892 but was not extended beyond the town. Chase County's principle watercourse is the Frenchman River. The county was named in honor of Champion S. Chase, the first Attorney General for the State of Nebraska.
